

The Water Measurement 'Blue Tick' accreditation programme requires service providers to have a good appreciation of the capabilities and work involved in the installation and verification of their products. 'Blue tick' status is partly dependent on the following criteria being achieved by service providers.

(a) Installation Workbook

For all Accredited Installation Service Providers, the installation must be supervised or signed off by a person that holds the Unit Standard for installation NZQA 27445 – Select, oversee installation, and commission a full pipe water measurement system

You can enrol at any time as this course is offered by distance learning.

INZ are taking enrolments for this course now. The fees for each course are NZ$500. Material will be sent out on receipt of payment.
